- The last person of the conveyor belt continuously switches quickly to the front of the conveyor belt, which is heading towards the finish line. If they do not switch, the transported teammate will fall of the conveyor belt and will have to start at the point where the "Package" fell off.

RULES

- Hands must be out of the conveyor belt and above your head or on your shoulders with your arms crossed at your chest.
- Propelling a teammate is illegal and is very unsafe in transporting a teammate to the finish line.
- The transported teammate who falls during the conveyor belt will have to start at the point where the "package" fell off
- The transported teammate must lay on their back with arms crossed and cannot move while being transported. This person can only move when they are dropped.
- Players who compose the conveyor belt must be lined up on the ground in an alternating order of head, feet, head, feet, etc.
- The use of hands, the failure to fix alternating positions, or the failure to fix rolling into other lanes can result in a warning from referees. Three warnings will result in disqualification from the game.

POINTS

- Only the top 3 schools from each heat will be awarded points.
- 1st place = 16.5 points
- 2nd place = 11.5 points
- 3rd place = 6.5 points

UP AND UNDER

- A team of 5 people who identify as a man and 5 people who identify as a woman will line up facing the back of each teammate. The team must pass a rubber kickball from one end of the field to the other by either passing the ball over their head or under their legs, alternating with each person (the first person must start passing the ball over their head, and the second person passes the ball under their legs, the third passes the ball over their head, and so on.)
- The game is complete when the ball has traveled completely across the field and all players have passed the finish line. Once the entire team is seated, the corresponding referee will raise his or her head to signal the completion of the team's relay.

RULES

- Must use a ball with a circumference of 26 inches.
- A violation of any of the following rules will result in a warning:
  - Teams must follow the "over-under" rule.
  - Teams must not throw or toss the ball.
  - Feet must not move after being planted.
- If the ball falls to the ground, then it must be taken to the front of the line, and the players must start again where they are.
- Once players have reset themselves and have planted their feet, they MUST keep their feet PLANTED and are not allowed to move until the ball has released their hands.
- Once the whole team has crossed the finish line and all the players are seated, the team is then finished.

NOTE: there is a video on http://friendshipgames.net explaining the rules and a demonstration of the game. If there are any further questions regarding the game, please contact Matthew Layson at sports@csufpasa.com

POINTS

- Only the top 3 schools from each heat will be awarded points.

IN CASE OF RAIN

Friendship Games will take place rain or shine. Please note, however, if it does rain on October 19th, 2019, the Friendship Games Coordinators will consult with advisors and event staff to decide the best course of action. This may involve decision making regarding what we will and will not be able to do, depending on a host of factors. This includes the severity of weather conditions, the state of the playing field, timing, and most importantly, safety concerns.

In addition, we will plan and execute Plan B in order to ensure the safety of our participants and attendees. Rain, high winds, or otherwise inclement weather may not allow us to execute all of the scheduled activities. Because of the serious risks associated with or caused by the rain (i.e. electrocution, damaged equipment, slipping on the stage, saturated grass and mud, to name a few,) we may need to delay registration, roll call, playing the games, half-time show, or even eliminate a few games depending on time and/or the condition of the field.

It would be very disappointing if the weather requires us to make major adjustments to Friendship Games, but CSUF PASA has a responsibility to act in the best interests of our participants, guests, and university. Although it is difficult to predict or control the weather, we will work closely with our advisors to develop action plans that will minimize risks and promote the safety and well-being of our attendees. We thank you in advance for your support and cooperation.
